Ben -

If you've not seen the statement of work, please see attached. I did talk with Katie today regarding the statement of work and based on comments received from TT, they are more administrative than technical but I would appreciate at this juncture if you would read over the SOW and give me any critical feedback.

I will be speaking with the State tomorrow to set up the conference call between, you all, the folks in Washington, the State, and the Region.

Subject: NM nutrients

Hi Forrest;

I tracked down the people involved in the NM nutrients contract.

Since the watersheds contract is being used and Mike Paul is the Tetra Tech lead on that, he has been in contact with Aileen Molloy and Katie Flahive of EPA about setting up meetings. Katie is apparently the one who is coordinating with NM. They have a similar project in Utah and have been discussing that at the same time. I will be on the call for the NM project and will be involved throughout.

Hope that helps!
